

THE ARCHITECTURE OF THE CYPRIOTS DURING BRITISH RULE 1878-1960

Advance purchases of book at a special price CNG 19.5.2017

This important and unique book about Cyprus by Professor Costas Georghiou, architect and town planner is to be published shortly by En Tipis Publications, Nicosia. It is the first comprehensive, scientifically researched, in depth study of significant and representative buildings and urban design projects created by the Cypriots during British rule, about which very little has been published. The previous book by the same author 'British Colonial Architecture in Cyprus 1878-1960' published by En Tipis in 2013 won an award for publishing excellence and is now nearly sold out.

The new book will be in art edition, hardback 480 pages 24x30 cm and contain about 1000 photographs and drawings. The book is written in plain, easily understood language and explains the development of Cypriot architecture and built environment and the social, economic and political framework at the time and the aspirations of the Cypriots which created it.

Therefore the book is addressed not only to professional architects, engineers and town planners but also to the wider public who is interested to learn more about the Cypriot cultural heritage and its safeguarding for future generations.

The retail price of the book when published will be 65 Euros per copy. You can take advantage of the special offer of 55 euros per copy if you purchase it in advance by completing the form below and enclosing the appropriate amount.
