Commercial Evidence

First Tutorial 26 February 2014

The Chartered Institute of Arbitrators (CI Arb) is one of the world's leading centres of excellence for the development of arbitration, mediation and other forms of dispute resolution at all levels.

The Institute was founded in 1915 and now has over 13.000 members in more than 100 countries. The CI Arb is a not-for-profit charity which works in the public interest through its international network of more than 30 Branches and Chapters.

The Cyprus Branch is an approved provider of the Institute's Courses. The diversity of cultures and practices across the continent and other countries around Cyprus, enables the Branch to bring together a unique mixture of dispute resolution methods, practices and experiences.

For the first time in Cyprus, the Cyprus Branch is launching its Module 1 Course in International Commercial Arbitration, which is the first step in the Institute's "Pathways to Fellowship" programme.

This Module 1 Course is carried out over a period of five months comprising a mix of three one-day tutorials and self study.

No other organisation in the dispute resolution business can offer this prestigious accolade.

Course tutors and leaders

The course senior tutors will be provided by the SICA-FICA Foundation, one of Europe's most prestigious international arbitration training providers, which has as its senior International Training and Education Officer, William McLaughlin FCIArb, C.Arb.

SICA-FICA has provided many such courses on a worldwide basis to the Chartered Institute of Arbitrators and additional faculty training staff will be advised.

In addition, members of the Cyprus Branch's own teaching faculty will assist in the face-to-face tutorials.

Course Director

Bill McLaughlin: SICA-FICA Foundation
Anna Iacovou Stylianou: Cyprus Branch

The SICA-FICA Foundation is based in the Hague and offers a true European perspective on International Commercial Arbitration. Its tutors are well experienced in providing first-class courses at all levels, and frequently do so in the Middle East, the Far East and West Africa, Latin America and across Europe.

The Cyprus Branch is delighted that SICA-FICA is able to offer its training services at this time in support of our overall training programme.

International Commercial Arbitration

Module 1

Laws of Obligations and Civil & Commercial Evidence

Module 1 of the Cyprus Branch's course in Laws of Obligations and Civil & Commercial Evidence address the matter of the Law of Arbitration.

This course will provide a detailed knowledge and appreciation of the differences in the law of international arbitration as applied to a number of different common and civil law jurisdictions, particularly those in England, France and China. The course includes the UNCITRAL Model Law on international commercial arbitration, and the use of international and institutional rules and administrative services.

The course will address those matters that may be arbitrated and the nature of international arbitral appointments. We shall consider the relevance of the courts to international arbitration as well as the requirements of an enforceable international award.

The course is spread out over six months and it includes three separate days of face-to-face tutorials with periods of self study.

The Module 1 Course is based upon a course workbook, and participants are expected to read and study specified parts of the workbook, with revision and practice questions. A specific assignment will be issued to all participants in the latter part of the course and the results of the assignment will count for 20% of the overall course marking.

A final written examination will account for 80% of the overall marks for the course.

The course will start on 29 January 2014 when the initial Course Papers will be issued.

Who should attend?

The Module 1 Laws of Obligations and Civil & Commercial Evidence Course follows of from the Institute's Entry level, and it is mandatory for those who wish to attain Full Membership of the Chartered Institute of Arbitrators. It is open to members of all profession who are already Associate Members of the Institute.

The Module 1 Course is also essential for those which wish to add international arbitration, especially within a European environment, to their existing professional skills.

Tutorials

The Course will include three face-to-face tutorials, which will be held in Cyprus.

The dates of the tutorials are: 26 February, 26 March, 12 May 2014, with the examination being held on 2 June 2014.

Fees

The Course Fee is EUR 1.400,00 per person.
